PRODUCT SPOTLIGHT

Trek-Tech - ShotPod

ShotPod is the unique combination of a lightweight, height-adjustable walking/hiking staff with a fully integrated tripod and shooting rest (ShotRest). ShotPod converts between its functions in just seconds.

If you want to use your ShotPod for shooting, photography and observation, consider a TrekPod or TrekPod II, both of which come with a MagMount, then purchase an optional ShotRest. This combination will provide you with the most complete functionality at the lowest total cost.

ShotRest is a premium shooting rest which magnetically mounts to a ShotPod using its ShotRest mount (both standard components of ShotPod), or to a TrekPod or TrekPod II's MagMount.

ShotRest is instantly interchangeable with an optional cork or wood palm rest, or any other device you would like to mount to a ShotPod or TrekPod using optional light- or heavy-force Mag Adapters. ShotRest also mounts to Trek-Tech's VersaMount via a MagMount or ShotRest mount, enabling seated shooting and observations.

VersaMount makes your TrekPod an even more versatile tool! VersaMount enables shooting from a seated or kneeling position; macro photography on TrekPod or tripod leg; Seated long range observation with powerful spotting scopes.

MagMount is an industry-first magnetic quick-release camera and optical device ball head mounting system originally developed for use on the TrekPod, but also available as a separate accessory. It provides for the instant attachment of almost any camera, spotting scope, or other device that is mounted via the industry standard 1/4-20 threaded mounting system in use on most tripods and monopods on the market today.

Try the TrekPod with MagMount system and see for yourself the fun and flexibility it will add to your outdoor and photographic activities.
